

Herpetology Program Checklist:	Yes	No
1. Safety features are discussed/reiterated with students.
2. Instructors have proper training on the handling of reptiles and amphibians.
3. Students have access to fieldwork and data collection.
4. Activities are designed to engage students in inquiry (collecting data, measurement, observation, developing research interests).
5. The program promotes an eco-conscious attitude in participants (animals are returned to habitats).
6. Program activities provide minds-on experiences.
7. The program is designed with the developmental and intellectual abilities of the participants in mind.
8. Activities are designed with participant interests in mind.
9. The program can be sustained on the funds available.
10. The program has proper equipment for handling animals and/or doing classroom inquiry.		